The structure just behind Grenada Theatre suffered damage by fire late Wednesday afternoon. Fortunately there was no other fire at the same time.

Our affable member of the Board of Director, Orley Lilly, was absent from an important meeting of the directorate Monday night, being absent in the East looking for a bunch of cars.

I saw two ladies of the evening together Tuesday.

Whyte, Jr., is now at the Hospital at Camp McCain. His condition is not serious. It will take time however for a leg wound to heal and for a fractured shoulder blade to knit together.

Dear Cousin Tumble: I mailed, first class, to you the papers you asked for. They should have reached you ten days or two weeks ago. Best wishes.

Keep this in mind: your soldier son, if registered, can vote by mail if you apply to Charlie Worsham for the necessary papers. The tickets will be printed about the 5th of July so that there will be ample time for ANY soldier still in the States to cast his vote. The soldier does not have to pay poll taxes. This applies, of course, to all men and women in the armed forces.

Candidates, how about those printed cards?

Our overseas, Mr. Terrell, has turned over a new leaf.

Fred Sullivan tells a tale something like this: a frugal old lady, knowing that she soon would die, asked that, before she was buried in her handsome black dress, the whole back of the dress be cut out and be used to make a dress for little Sue. "What would John think," she was asked, "when you meet him in Heaven with only the front part of your dress on?" "Oh," she said, "that's all right, I buried John without his pants on."

The man who should and who will wrest control of the country from the old line politicians, many of whom place personal prestige above patriotism, is the boys who save the country run it. It is a good slogan.

A careless word, a spoken ship: repetition of an idle rumor, and another cross in the desert. Remember that idle gossip is one of Hitler's finest weapons, and the idle word MAY mean the death of YOUR boy.

To be on the safe side, do not repeat ANYTHING about military affairs. Talk about the weather, or the ladies of the evening or the new painted-on stockings.

Aint they sweet.

The black-out in Grenada Wednesday night seemed to be a complete success.

Remember, country friends, that all business houses in Grenada will be closed next Thursday afternoon after 12:30, and EVERY Thursday afternoon during June, July and August. It is obviously impractical for newspapers to close.

I may be mistaken and, if so, I apologize, but I think ex-Congressman Ford said that he would join the armed forces, if defeated. I wonder what branch of service he is in? If anyone knows, please write me.

Grenada businessmen have the greatest opportunity in their lifetime to recapture the trade from their legitimate trade territory, and from Grenada itself, what with rationing of tires and gasoline. Buying habits, once fixed, are hard to change. They CAN be changed NOW, and the wise merchant will go after business in this city and in this trade territory so that, once peace comes, he will still enjoy the local business. The war will not last forever. Nobody knows whether, when the 87th is training and shipped, that another force of troops will be moved here. Grenada COULD drop from its present dizzy heights back to normal. Better pay more attention to the "home front," for this front made you what you are, and will sustain you, if you are to be sustained, when the boom bursts.

Cpl. Van B. Collins, who has been out of the States something over a year and is stationed somewhere in Canada, arrived Wednesday and is spending his furlough with home folks and friends in Grenada and near Calhoun City. His furlough is for 21 days.

Mrs. Brooks Wallace and little son, of Coldwater, are visiting their father, Mr. Jim Rose. They were accompanied by their friend, Miss Annie Day Murphy who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Doty and mother.

J. L. Tribble Accounted For In Manila

Mr. and Mrs. Artie Tribble, of Evansville, Miss., natives of Bond, Grenada County, were informed on Monday of this week that their son, Aviation Mechanic, J. L. Tribble, is accounted for, having been listed as missing or dead since the Japs captured Manila two years ago. He is a Jap prisoner and is now at Fonta Tomas, Manila, Philippine Islands. The large connection of the Tribble family here and their many friends rejoice with Mr. and Mrs. Tribble that their son lives.

Maj. Lloyd Makes Interesting Talk To Rotarians

Major Cyril S. Lloyd, the Provost Marshal (head of the Military Police, to you non-army folk) of Camp McCain, made a most interesting talk to the members of the Grenada Rotary Club Tuesday, outlining to them the function of the revamped military police organization.

The writer remembers that, in the last war, the MPs were picked seemingly because they had strong backs and weak minds. In this war, however, the MP is taught to be courteous to civilian and soldiers alike, to cooperate to the greatest degree with civilian authorities and to use force only as a last resort.

No longer do traveling soldiers literally "take" railroad trains, to the discomfort of peaceable soldiers and civilians, but on the contrary, due to the constant presence of a brace of MPs, the greatest degree of order is maintained on passenger trains.

Major Lloyd's talk was plain, straightforward and illuminative, as befits that of a soldier, and was well received.

Sgt. Sam Provine, of Camp Ho J. Texas, is here for a visit with his mother, Mrs. E. B. Provine.

Promoted To Captain

News was received in Grenada Monday that Lt. James R. Hooker, F. A.

CAPTAIN JAS. R. HOOKER

now at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, has been promoted to the rank of Captain.

Captain Hooker, an orphan, was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Weed. He left here with the "home" company as a private in Hq. Bat. 114th F. A. Bn., in December, 1940, and according to our knowledge has made greater advance in the Army, than any of the boys who left here with him.

Addresses Lions Club About The Food Situation

Li Gehavan of the Station Complement, Camp McCain, recently addressed the members of the Grenada Lions Club on the interesting subject, "Food". Well fortified with statistics on the subject, he told how the food of America, the sufficient for our hitherto wasteful methods, had to be rationed in order to allow Lend-Lease shipments of huge quantities of essential food to Russia, England and other allies; how the allies, in turn, furnished our troops with quantities of food; how the stock pile of various essential foods were divided between ourselves and our allies; how they England had converted its parks and other open places to use as vegetable areas, and that daughters of bankers as well as humbler people had become farmers with the result that food production had been increased 50 percent, even though about 20 percent of the homes had been damaged.

"I would call your attention to the fact," said this graduate of the Alabama Polytechnic School, "that long wars were won without many of the machines and ammunition now used, but wars were never won by starving armies. It is obvious, therefore, that food is our number one need."

Li Gehavan has under his direction the largest "garden" in Mississippi, four acres aggregating 100 acres in Camp McCain devoted to vegetables exclusively.

Gets Silver Wings

L. T. Hayden, known by his friends in Grenada, State College and Holcomb as "Junior", received his "wings" as Second Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps at Luke Field, Arizona on May 20th, having successfully completed his flight training there.

Red "J" Stamps Good Thru June OPA Announces

The Office of Price Administration announced that the Red "J" stamps, worth 16 points for rationed meats and fats will be valid through June instead of expiring on May 31.

Officials said an anticipated rush on retailers on the Saturday before Memorial Day led OPA to take the step at the request of the trade. It was feared difficulty would develop in handling the unusually heavy volume of purchases.

At the same time, OPA announces that four new series of red stamps—a total of 64 points—will become valid at weekly intervals beginning May 30 and will be good through June 30.

Explaining the time extension for red stamp "J", OPA said that since Memorial Day falls on Sunday, May 30, most stores probably will be closed Monday, May 31. With red stamps E, F, G, H and J all expiring May 31, officials said, consumers probably would jam grocery stores next Saturday to spend unused stamps of these series.

This would be particularly true of stamp J, since stamps of that letter do not become valid until Sunday, May 23, it was said. With stamps of this series good through June, however, consumers will not be impelled to rush to spend their stamps before Memorial Day.

The schedule of validity dates for the new series of red stamps shows stamp K becoming valid May 30; stamp L, June 6; stamp M, June 13; and stamp N, June 20. All will be valid through June 30.

OPA announced that blue-canned and processed goods—stamps G, H, and J, the May stamps, would be good through June 7, also in order to prevent a rush on grocery stores next Saturday.

D. F. Hankins Make Formal Announcement

Mr. D. F. Hankins of Beat Three, candidate for floater-representative from Grenada-Montgomery counties has been in the hospital and asked the GCW briefly to summarize his formal announcement.

He wishes to thank the people for the fine vote he received in the senatorial race in 1939, when he was a comparative stranger in Yalobusha county and in this county beyond Beat Three.

He was born and reared in Itawamba county, and was ordained as a Baptist minister in 1919 and served as minister for over ten years and is now a member of the Grayson church.

While, on the stump and in personal contact with the voters of the two counties, he will go into greater details, he confines himself in this announcement to saying that, if elected, he will give four years of honest, faithful service.

Mr. Hankins stated that, inasmuch as this nation is in a total war—one without precedent in our history—the people are not interested in the ordinary time of politics, and neither is he for he, like most of the older people, has his two sons (one overseas) in the army and that his mind does not run in the ordinary peaceful channel. He, therefore, will be unable to make a house to house canvass, bothering folks whose thoughts, like his, are in North Africa, New Guinea and other foreign fields of combat.

He did wish to state that, so far as he knew, he was the first Grenada county candidate for either the lower or the upper house in Jackson, to advocate greater old age assistance and free school books, and recalls that he did those things in 1939. He, if elected, will work for greater assistance for the old people, he says.

William A. Thompson Died Here Last Saturday

William A. Thompson, known by his friends as "Archie", died of heart trouble in his home on Kershaw Street in Grenada Saturday, May 23, 1943, following an illness of about two months.

He was born in old Jefferson in Carroll county, Mississippi, October 28, 1879. Receiving the education that was to be had there, he moved to Grenada when he was quite a young man and on August 28, 1892 married Miss Emma Weir. He was a member of the Baptist faith. At the time of his death he was filling out the last year of a four-years term as Coroner and Ranger of Grenada County. For a good many years he served on the police force of the City of Grenada, and for many years worked with Eli Whitaker in the Whitaker Coal Company. He was known for his sobriety, gentle and kindly nature and for his adherence to the principles that he thought right. Mrs. Thompson died in November, 1940.

Funeral services were held in the home of his sister, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell Sunday afternoon, after which his body was buried in Odd Fellows Cemetery in Grenada. Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated.

Messrs. R. A. Parham, S. H. Horton, Eli Whitaker, A. L. Trotman, George Granberry and L. P. Horton served as pallbearers.

Surviving him are three daughters: Miss Minnie Lou Thompson, of Grenada, Mrs. H. R. Cobb, of Sylacauga, Ala., and Mrs. Lamar Hall, of Memphis; two sons, E. H. Thompson, of Memphis and T. W. Thompson, of Louisville, Ky.; one sister, Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, of Grenada; one brother, H. M. Thompson, of Jackson, Miss.; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

Mrs. Hubert Flurry, of Water Valley, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Winter, a few days.

"Raisin' Cain" In The Making In 87th Division

The 87th Division this week began its second venture into the realm of the theater, as tryouts for the rollicking musical comedy, "Raisin' Cain", written and directed by Pvt. Fred Gerbois, formerly associated with the University of Wisconsin Harefoot Club, got under way.

"Raisin' Cain" will feature a complete, convulsious, and talented chorus taken direct—from the ranks of the "Baby" Division, $25,000 worth of costumes from New York and Chicago, and the pick of the best soldier talent in the army, is being counted on to assure as much success to "Raisin' Cain" as the first great all-soldier show, "This Is The Army" has so far enjoyed.

The initial enterprise of the Division, the World War I laugh hit "What Price Glory," is still in the rehearsal stage with production scheduled for the week of June 7. This show is being directed by Corporal Charles O. Campy, a former New York stage director. Top role in "What Price Glory" is being played by Pvt. Charles Gary, motion picture and radio actor, and a native Mississippian.

Addition to the cast of Auxiliary Hannah Berkowitz, a member of the WAAC contingent which recently arrived in Camp McCain, was announced by director Campy. She will play the celebrated Charmaine role.

But—Sacrificing Non-Essential Calls Helps Clear Lines for Vital War Calls

You bet it's pleasant to talk with friends over the telephone, just as it was pleasant to take those long Sunday afternoon rides when we had plenty of tires and gasoline.

But social calls must be handled over the same local telephone facilities as war calls. There is a definite limit to the number of calls these facilities can handle at the same time, and when more calls are made, some must wait.

With telephone equipment already burdened with war calls, non-essential calls may delay necessary calls, so we are requesting your voluntary co-operation to reduce unnecessary calling.

Under normal conditions we would expand our facilities to care for the increased volume of calls, but we cannot do that now because the needed materials are going into war weapons.

So won't you help by making fewer local calls? And when you must make a call, won't you please try to make it as short as possible?

How Can I Help

"How can I help in the war effort?" is a question that most people ask.

There is one simple way that ALL can help: by keeping a still tongue about military matters, disposition, training and movement of troops.

The blind man can help by not repeating idle gossip that he hears.

The bed-ridden person can help by refraining from repeating matters pertaining to military affairs and by encouraging others to do likewise.

No matter how old or decrepit you are, YOU can help by refraining from talking too much.

YOU do not know who is listening when YOU speak. YOU do not know how enemy agents—always the most unobtrusive and inconspicuous people imaginable—can gather this bit of talk, that bit of information and the other facts; assemble them like one does a jigsaw puzzle and create the whole picture of something quite important to him.

The FBI officials has warned the people of the United States that Hitler, in a last desperate fling of the dice, may, turn his saboteurs loose with their dynamite and their torches. Therefore YOU can report to the officers any suspected person, or any group of suspected persons which is in the vicinity of any vital industry or installation.

Yes, everyone can help, even if by just keeping still tongues and attentive ears.

Subsidizing The Press

A bill, proposed by Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, and proposing to appropriate $30,000,000 to be used in paying for space in newspapers and periodicals, has become a moot question among newspapermen.

It is well known that newspapers are experiencing hard time during the war period, and that they are constantly called upon to use their space in all kinds of "drives".

I have done as much bellyaching about the government sending in stuff for publication, with the notation, "Please send us a free copy. Sorry no funds are available for paying for this publication," as any other editor; yet, when the time comes when serious consideration is being given to the proposal to get pay for publishing government propaganda (for that's all it is), the more I stay away from it. The freedom of the press is one of the Four Freedoms. There will be no free press when the government begins subsidizing the press of America. In every case I know of where the government contributed financially in a cooperative enterprise, the government assumed control; and I believe the government would control the press if it should adopt a policy of subsidizing it (for that's all this advertising scheme is).

If the people of the community in which a newspaper circulates do not provide enough revenue to maintain the newspaper, then the newspaper should no longer exist. If it cannot stand on its own bottom, then it should collapse. The newspaper, like any other legitimate business, should exist only so long as it is so valuable to the community it circulates in that the people of that community will sustain it.

The F. S. A.

The series of articles in the Commercial Appeal written by Kenneth Toler and an editorial by Ellett Lawrence in his house organ, PAGES, entitled "The FSA Has Descended Upon Us" brings to my mind that I understand that Congress decreed that the FSA should be liquidated by June 30th. I see no signs of liquidation in this vicinity.

I noticed from Mr. Toler's article that, whereas the FSA never did have the legal right to buy anything but cultivatable, or "open" land, it has bought tens of thousands of acres of alluvial timbered land in the Tri-State. Mr. Lawrence calls attention, among other things, to the fact that clients get "current" by renewing notes—damn easy way. Right between two Socialistic FSA farms in Leflore county, according to Mr. Lawrence, was a large Capitalistic (or privately owned) farm. On this Capitalistic farm, the average share cropper NETTED $66.33 per cotton acre; and that the owner of this farm paid the government in income taxes $40.30 per cotton acre. How much was the FSA client—why the hell do they call them clients—NETTED per cotton acre is a deep secret. But it's a fact that the FSA paid the government exactly nothing in income taxes.

As I understand it, to become a FSA client, one must have a farming record. Certainly the record must be damn bad for the FSA is supposed to help only those who cannot get help anywhere else.

The sooner the FSA is abolished, abandoned, and thrown into the junk pile, the better off the country will be, in my personal opinion.

A Long, Hard Fight Ahead

Only foolish and ill-timed optimism could cause anyone to think that, because North Africa has been taken, the war will soon be over. Churchill and Roosevelt and Stalin certainly have made no statements that would indicate that they thought the war would be over soon.

The Japanese pushed through from their homeland to the very sight of Australia, capturing everything in sight just like a hot knife goes through soft butter. Only industrial progress has been made in dislodging them. They advanced by the mile; they are being driven back by the inch. The European continent is one vast fortress, not easily cracked at any point. Italy is wavering, perhaps, but the conquest of Italy if effected would probably be a liability, for the almost impassable Alps separate Italy from Germany, and, if conquered, the Italians would have to be fed China, the greatest reservoir of manpower in the Allied Nations, is stubbornly resisting but, apparently, constantly falling back swapping territory for time. Help MUST reach China, and soon. The Germans seem to be preparing to launch one more great offensive against the Russians, the results of which are by no means certain in spite of the voiced optimism of Mr. Stalin.

The "blood, sweat and tears" diet that Churchill prescribed for the Allies apparently will continue for the diet for months and perhaps years ahead, until a peace is won.

The best that can be said about the situation is that we have STOPPED LOSING the war, or, as Mr. Churchill said, we are at the "end of the beginning."

The Governor's Race

From where I sit, the governor's race has resolved itself into a scramble among Dennis, Tom and Lester to see which one will be in the run-off with Conner. Most observers conceded that Conner will lead the ticket.

After the primary, it will be Conner against the field, for, as Conner will not make extravagant promises and pay off campaign debts to gain support, the two dead fish will turn their guns on Conner and influence as many of their friends as possible to support Conner's opponent. Just what effect the dead fish will have on the final result is not known, but usually the support of dead fish is not worth much.

It seems to me that Conner's best policy would be to run his own campaign, blow his own horn, extol his own virtues, and refrain from attacking his opponents, unless first attacked, and thereby not pile up resentment against himself from the friends of the dead fish, he has a fine chance to be elected.

Conner's record as governor, and the savings and economies put into effect by him, SHOULD elect him; but we must bear in mind that a majority of voters in Mississippi do not give a damn whether taxes are 30 mills or 300 mills—for the majority pay nothing but a poll tax anyway. Conner relieved the tax of the road tax and the tax on mules, wagons and cattle. I venture the assertion that a majority of our people prefer an EXTRAVAGANT administration, for, with the state throwing away money, they have a chance of getting some of it, while paying nothing.

Viewing With Alarm

Just at the moment, I recall two matters which I "viewed with alarm" that turned out all right. I am sure, if I were to scratch my head, I would find many more.

The first thing I "viewed with alarm" was the election of Paul Johnson as Governor of Mississippi. I thought that the State of Mississippi would go to hell if Mr. Johnson were elected, and, during the pre-election period stated many dire things that would happen should such a calamity (?) befall Mississippi. I wasted my "alarm" and I now find that there was no real cause for alarm, for Paul Johnson's administration has been far above the average. He batted about as high a percentage in carrying out his pre-election promises as any governor.

The next thing that "viewed with alarm" was the banishment of beer from Grenada County. I honestly painted some hellacious word pictures of the calamities, the vices and the immoralities that would come when the sale of beer here was made illegal. I wasted my "alarm" in this case, too, and I now find there was no real cause for alarm. Frankly, I now believe that the "other fellows" were right, and that I was wrong. I do not know of a place in the county where beer is sold illegally, and I have not heard of a place where it is sold illegally. Certainly, if the sale of illegal beer, was anything like common, I would have heard something of it.

An honest confession is good for the soul.

Is The South To Be Lazarus?

Lazarus ate the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. The South for 100 years many decades has taken just anything that the power in Washington—whether in Democratic control or in Republican control—saw fit to let drop to the floor from the banquet table. The Republicans would not put out anything in the South because they knew that the voters in the Solid South would vote for a jackass wearing a Mother Hubbard if the jackass wore the Democratic label. On the other hand, when the Democrats are in control, there's no use in putting out anything because the Solid South's vote is counted before hand—"in the bag," as it is called.

If the Solid South's voters would get together and throw off the rusty shackles that have bound them to what is now nothing but a myth (the Democratic Party) they should first try to wrest control of the party from the New Dealers, now masquerading as Democrats, or failing that, establish a party of their own. In the latter eventuality, the Solid South could and would hold the balance of power in this nation.

Many rock-ribbed Democrats are ripe to quit the New Deal party. They feel that they have not changed; but that the party has changed.

Miscellaneous Thoughts

I hope the next legislature will see fit to change the law concerning the pay of supervisors so that the supervisor can draw a straight salary, and not have to resort to the subterfuge of "inspecting roads" to get what is coming to him.

Induction Centers should be instructed to give a man who is rejected a distinctive badge or button which he can wear to show the strangers that he WAS rejected. Many serious ailments are not apparent even to the physician until an examination is made, and few are apparent to the layman. Draft boards should be instructed to give those who are deferred for occupational or dependency status buttons or badges indicating the true status of the men. I am sure that most of us have seen a fine healthy young man walking the streets in civilian clothes and said to ourselves, "Why the hell ain't that so and so in the army like my boy is?" when, as a matter of fact the subject of our criticism may have serious heart trouble, may be a vital cog in an important industry, or may have half a dozen kids at home.

Providence continues to be kind to Grenada, as, so far, our fires have come one at a time, and not contemporaneously.

Providence MAY be kind to Grenada by not permitting an epidemic, due to crowded and unsanitary conditions, to break out, but it is said that the Lord helps those who help themselves.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the bloodstream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, stinging or too frequent urination.

PLANNING ISN'T NEW

THE way a lot of people are talking these days, you'd think planning is something new.

But anybody who's ever run a farm or a factory knows that if you don't plan, you can't get the most out of what you have to work with.

To plan properly, the farmer has to know about crops, soils, seasons, tools, and stock; and the man operating a factory has to know about machines, markets, science, and engineering.

Yet for all this specialized knowledge which each of these activities requires, the managers of both farm and factory have much in common in their planning. They have the same problems—to mention a few—of employment and taxes, of costs and a fair profit, of setting aside reserves for a "rainy day."

And they have the same objective in their planning—to do everything they can for their country today, and tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to their fellow Americans. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Poppy Day In Grenada Saturday, May 29th

How the memorial poppies which will be worn to honor the war dead on Poppy Day next Saturday will bring help to war's living victims was explained today by Mrs. Sarah McCorkle, president of Grenada Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. McCorkle is one of the many volunteer workers who will distribute the poppies on the streets here Saturday. She said: "I hope everyone understands what becomes of the coins they contribute when they see a poppy from an Auxiliary worker. I wish everyone could know the need for those contributions, especially this year when the war is increasing that need so greatly.

"First let me say that every penny of the money paid for poppies goes into the rehabilitation and welfare work of the American Legion and Auxiliary, and because this work is performed by volunteers, it goes a very long way.

"Disabled veterans and children fatherless by war are the special concern of the Legion and Auxiliary. It is for them the poppy dimes and dollars are given, not so much for their material needs as for their human needs.

"Only the billions of the government can bring adequate relief to the nation's disabled defenders and their families, but there are things which the government with all of its billions cannot do. It cannot provide the understanding and personal attention that so often are such a big factor in a disabled man's rehabilitation; which so often hold his family together until he is able to return home.

"This the Legion and the Auxiliary are doing with the help of the money you give on Poppy Day. By wearing a poppy you aid the disabled as well as honor the dead."

2D CLASS DRUG STORE OPEN

The 2d Class Drug Store, an institution founded by the late Dr. D. O. Semmes, has been reopened by Mrs. Margaret Semmes, widow of the late Dr. Semmes, son of the founder.

She has just returned from market where she has secured (and brought back) many new items of fresh merchandise.

Mrs. Semmes will welcome the many old customers of this old firm, also the new customers who have moved in while the store was temporarily closed.

STORK

A daughter, weighing 8 lbs, was born to Sgt. and Mrs. Louis H. Fultz at St. Theresa Hospital in Beaumont, Texas May 17th. She has been named Henrietta Marie. Sgt. Fultz is the son of Mrs. Mattox Fultz of Holcomb and is with the army stationed somewhere in North Africa. Mrs. Fultz is the former Miss Evelyn Reed of Iowa, Ia. and is now making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed, of Beaumont.

Corporal Andrew D. Whitner spent a few days at home this week. If he stayed on duty three weeks on a stretch they would probably make him a Master Sergeant.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Taylor were happy to have their daughter, Mrs. Gordon and husband, Sgt. Winfred H. Gordon, of Las Vegas, Nev. at home last week for a visit. On their return to the West Sgt. and Mrs. Gordon were met at Dallas, Texas by their brother, Lt. Everett Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, and they enjoyed a brief reunion visit.

Just For Fun

Promotions are coming up rapidly these days, and this past Sunday two of the 348th Infantry received their silver bars. Sir. They are Lt. Lawrence W. Stumund, from Lawrence, Kansas; and Lt. Robert E. Marquette, from Cleveland, Ohio.

Sunday we also had the 65th Mass

Officer of that outfit, Lt. Micklejohn, who can sing beautifully, parading up and down the Mess Hall. He had a right to be proud, it was a most excellent dinner. The Lieutenant played ball for Nebraska several years ago. Lt. and Mrs. Helsel, and their dog "Yankee" were also visiting at the camp in the afternoon. There were nearly as many dogs as there were people. "Yankee's" playmate was a cute, big brown terrier, named "Lana" and owned by Lt. Guest.

Also in the romp was a little yellow spitz whose name we didn't catch, and of course, "Fannie." Fannie, you know, is the monkey that thrives on peanuts, Coca-Cola and telephone wires. She was doing an acrobatic number across one of them until Lt. Fisher caught her.

We forgot a few details the other week in reporting the wedding of Lt. and Mrs. Fisher. One was that the bride is from the South of Alabama. And that her bridesmaid was Lt. Chaney who finished training five months ago with the bride. And we missed mentioning that the organ music was beautiful.

While we're on the romantic subject, I really think that I saw a beautiful solitaire on Betty Johnson's finger yesterday. She's been commuting between Greenwood and the job at camp regularly on for some time, and every week-end seems to find it harder to come back—all on account of some Bill Bryant. At least that's the rumor.

Capt. Emmons, who did so much towards the construction of the camp, is now Area Engineer at a camp in Colorado. He was transferred from Iowa to Clinton, Ohio, where he was stationed one day, and then took his present post in Colorado.

Were you all in town last Friday for High School Commencement? There were nearly as many soldiers around as there were parents and students. The girls certainly looked beautiful in their short white summer dresses and pastel corsages. Mary Loh Horton really made it, and she's evidently still celebrating, for we see her at the show or about town nearly every night with some officer.

Some One Divided

Long, long ago, some one sowed some oats and when they were harvested, it was discovered that they made good eating. It is still not clear to me whether man was first to eat oats or the horses, but nevertheless they are good for man and beast. It is possible that man was the first to eat oats and he found them to be such good food that he decided to divide with the horses.

UNKNOWN AT THE TIME

Of course about all man knew about oats, was the fact that after eating a good dish for breakfast he could do a hard days work and not be tired. Long after man started eating oats some smart-man who didn't like working in the field was tinkering around and found that there were a lot of vitamins concealed therein.

SATAN COMES ALONG

Yes! man and beast were getting along so well eating oats, that old SATAN decided to tell them another lie. He told man that he ought to sow some wild oats and that after a few crops of wild oats that he could settle down and go back to his tame oat crop and it would make him enjoy his tame oats better and he'd have more experience in worldly matters.

The Harvest Must Be Reaped

Yes! The oat crop must be reaped whether tame or wild and the wild crop will always have a lot of thorns in it.

Quaker, Mothers and Crystal Wedding Oats are far better for us than the wild oats. We have a big supply of all except wild oats.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

Grenada's door mat holds this interestingly, "Grenada at the Cross Roads of North Mississippi," or words to that effect, telling the world of our favorable position on the map. The average outsider will say, "So What?" and mean it. Grenada must justify this favorable position to deserve it.

The way I see it, it's going to take more than a favorable position on the map to make Grenada grow, to expand and prosper, as Grenada now has the opportunity of doing.

Look about you in the town of Grenada and you will see many, many well built and well maintained homes. You will find that we have adequate school buildings for both the white and negro children. You will find seven well built churches and our Community House and public library are credits to a town of 6,000 inhabitants.

In the business section of our town the grocery stores, the dry good stores, the drug stores and the jewelry stores are usually filled with people often milling about spending money. There are more customers than clerks can wait on and in many instances the clerks are young inexperienced girls or boys or women whom the natives of Grenada never saw before. The customers seem apathetic, the clerks often the same way or untrained and the proprietor or owner usually too busy doing a jack of all trade job to see that by more careful planning a veritable fortune might easily be dumped into his lap.

The very thought that with his additional soldier customers from Camp McCain and the men of the Air Corps at the Army Air Base trading here has increased business over 100 percent than previously enjoyed although is all the business one wants that isn't solving the problem of catering to the crowd here in Grenada.

The merchants in Camp areas have a great duty to perform. It is their task to purchase to the last pound or to the last yard of goods all commodities to be sold in this area, and to sell it now. The merchant's responsibility is to make everything about his business as attractive and as desirable as possible and to order and reorder, if necessary, but hold the trade here in Grenada at all costs. Should the merchants of Grenada so desire and after a good start is crystallized into permanent prosperity, they could have large department stores in Grenada; could have splendid and sanitary and beautiful cafes and better still could serve food that would be worth what one pays for it. Clerks would receive increased salary and could dress better and live in such a manner that when ever they stood behind the counter, an atmosphere of poise and assurance would inspire people to purchase at home and not in stores elsewhere.

Grenada has a chance to get into the big money now and it can't be done by making a little money and hiding it away. Money must be spent to create that certain atmosphere of ease and dignity, and from then on out, the money from additional customers will roll in. Grenada would then have stores like Greenwood and Jackson, and would easily attract customers from both of those towns—surely turn about is fair play.

Grenada is our town—we love Grenada, but our town must shed its small town ways and take on an air of more importance. Never let it be said of Grenada, "She had her chance to occupy a higher plane, but was too indifferent, to self-satisfied to exert herself."

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Long returned Sunday from Chicago where they spent two weeks.

GRADUATE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Junius Townes, Jr., entertained a lovely courtesy party for her sister-in-law, Ruth Townes, a 1943 graduate of Grenada High School at her home on College Street Monday evening. Lovely arrangements of summer flowers centered the dining table as well as other points of vantage in the living room, creating a festive atmosphere for the receiving of the berry of lovely girls who were guests. The party was at 8 o'clock.

Each guest received a small gift tied with red, white and blue colors, as a favor and the hostess attached a verse of original poetry suitable to each guest's personality and these were read aloud for fun and then further entertainment was furnished the guests by playing victrola music.

Refreshments consisting of assorted sandwiches, cakes, candy and Coca-Cola were served in the dining room.

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Long returned Sunday from Chicago where they spent two weeks.

Soil Chemists Study Farm Crop Diet Needs

Determine Extent to Which Plants Use Food

If farm crops are provided with a more substantial diet by the addition of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and calcium to the soil, the plants will do their part by utilizing the increased nutrients and passing them on to their human or livestock consumers in the form of needed minerals.

This was the conclusion of a special study to determine the extent to which crops will use plant food when given the opportunity, conducted by Dr. George D. Scarce, soil chemist of the Purdue university agricultural experiment station. He was assisted by Dr. D. H. Sling, assistant professor of agronomy and R. E. Lucas, graduate assistant.

These soil scientists used test plots on which various fertilizer treatments had been applied and plots which received no treatment whatever. Then they compared the rate of plant food used by the crops grown on these plots.

Three different locations were used for the tests. These included Crosby silt loam plots at Lafayette, Ind., Bedford silt loam at Bedford and Clermont silt loam at North Vernon. The crops studied for three consecutive years included corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa and red clover, soybeans, timothy and lespedeza.

In general, the tests revealed that crops produced on fertilized plots utilized about twice as much nitrogen, nearly three times as much phosphorus and two and one-half times as much potash per acre as those grown on unfertilized plots.

At Bedford, for example, a corn, wheat, soybean and hay rotation grown on a plot treated with a 3-18-9 analysis, utilized 43 pounds of nitrogen, 12 pounds of phosphorus and 29 pounds of potash per acre. Plant food used by the same crop on an unfertilized plot amounted to only 20 pounds of nitrogen, 4.5 pounds of phosphorus and 12 pounds of potash per acre. On another plot where lime was added to the 3-18-9 analysis, the crops utilized 55 pounds of nitrogen, 15 pounds of phosphorus and 31 pounds of potash. When both lime and manure were added, the plant food utilization increased to 71, 21 and 52 pounds respectively.

On Clermont silt loam soil at North Vernon, a corn, wheat and hay rotation treated with a 3-20-12 fertilizer utilized 39 pounds of nitrogen, 14 pounds of phosphorus and 36 pounds of potash per acre. When lime was added, the utilization increased to 57, 19 and 38 pounds, respectively. The same crops used up only 18 pounds of nitrogen, six pounds of phosphorus and 15 pounds of potash when grown on an unfertilized plot.

Agriculture in Industry

Pecans

Nuts usually are thought of as delicious additions to pastry, candy and ice cream, but the Georgia school of technology views the pecan as raw material for industry.

Charcoal has been produced from the pecan hulls. When pulverized, it has as great power in decolorizing dyes as do other vegetable charcoals now being used industrially. Oil has been obtained from pecan meats which has a pleasant bland taste and odor. It becomes transparent when refined by the same process used for cotton seed oil. The oil can be used as salad oil or as a substitute for fats in baking. It has been used experimentally as a basis for cold cream which compares well with the finest commercial grades.

Ground nut shells may also have possibilities as abrasives or as a dusting agent for cleaning certain kinds of furs. They may also be useful for combining with dusting powders to kill insects.

Pecans are native to the southern states where the output is annually 30,000 to 50,000 tons. Improved varieties have been developed by selection and propagated by budding, but more than 50 per cent of the amount marketed are wild and seedling pecans which are native to the warm climate. Texas produces the greatest crop followed by Oklahoma, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas.

Crop Protectors

Manufacturers of materials used to combat plant diseases and insects claim there will be adequate supplies of most insecticides and fungicides to protect field and fruit crops in 1943. They also say that there is a better supply of containers than last year, but dealers and farmers are asked to return to factories all usable empty containers.

A substantial increase in production of calcium arsenate has been requested by the government.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

When our present synthetic program has reached a point where it produces the synthetic rubber which will compete one of the most serious post-war problems. What to do with the huge stocks of synthetic rubber now in the hands of manufacturers is a real problem.

A substitute for rubber adhesive tape is being sought. Thousands of pounds of this tape are being used to protect plastic airplanes in transit to aircraft factories.

Some three percent of the 1,000,000 workers of 64 war plants in 1942 go to and from work by public transportation. This means that 30,000 of the cars used by these workers have been taken off the road for re-supply.

Modern Curtains to Make Your Bay Windows Appear More Attractive

BAY windows are much in vogue again. One reason for this is that modern methods of hanging curtains make bay windows more attractive than they used to be in the Gay Nineties when they were a feature of so many houses.

In those old houses the vertical lines of woodwork and wall showing between windows made the bay seem like a coop stuck on the outside of the house.

Today curtains are hung to cover both wall and woodwork around the individual windows in the bay. This brings the group of windows together as a unit and makes the bay seem a broad and spacious part of the room. The sketch at the right shows a standard fixture that allows curtains to extend beyond the window frame; but don't rush out to buy new rods. The chances are that your old rods may be extended over the wall if you wire them to hooks or staples

AROUND THE HOUSE

If you find fruit jars difficult to get clean after cold packing corn or meat, rub the jar with salt and wash in the usual way.

Here is a good tip for making woolen jumpers fit properly at the waist. Knitters know how sometimes the ribbing, even although done on smaller needles, will stretch round the waist, and the jumper will tend to ride up at the back. To prevent this, sew a narrow piece of elastic, waist measurement, round the inside of the jumper, at the top of the ribbing. The elastic should be sewn loosely so that it will not show on the right side.

Buttons on a woolen or knitted coat sometimes tear away from the material, leaving an unsightly hole. To prevent this from happening, place a small button on the wrong side, beneath the larger button and sew the two on together.

Save worn-out garden hose to be cut into pieces for looping up vines or holding young trees in position. Thread a piece of wire about six inches longer through a cut piece. After looping about the branch or small tree, draw ends of wire firmly together and fasten by bending over each other in opposite directions. Slip the fastened wire ends forward into the hose and adjust so that the opening is out of sight.

When you see news photos of soldiers "off duty" in camp or behind the battle lines—notice how often you'll see them smoking a cigarette. There's a good reason for that. Army officials say that cigarettes are an appreciable factor in maintaining morale—and the soldiers themselves add that a carton of cigarettes from home is always welcome. What brand? Well, sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens show that Camels are the favorite cigarette with men in all the services. Though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are. Adv.

PETER'S COUNSEL TO SCATTERED CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—1 Peter 1:1; 2:11-25.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.—1 Peter 2:17.

Persecution for Christ's sake has been the lot of believers from the first century down to 1943. Sometimes it has been official, but more often unofficial, yet nonetheless severe and trying.

The manner in which Christians face their difficulties is one of the best testimonies to the reality of their professed faith. Sometimes, however, in the midst of their trials the enemy of their souls brings discouragement—and then they need the counsel and encouragement of others.

Such was the situation when Peter addressed his first epistle to the early believers who were scattered abroad (1:1). His counsel was just what they needed, and is equally helpful to us. They were to be

I. Separated As Pilgrims (1:1; 2:11, 12).

Christians are in this world but not of it. They are passing through, wayfarers on their way to the eternal dwelling place of God. That does not mean that they are not interested in the welfare of those around about them, or delinquent in sharing the responsibilities of life, but it does mean that they are to have the pilgrim's detachment from the things of the world and the flesh.

In the days of Peter, membership in the church was not considered a normal or respectable thing. It marked a person as belonging to a hated sect, one which was falsely accused of many evil deeds. For example, Christians met at night, men and women together for communion service. Because they spoke of this as a "love feast," they were accused of immorality, and because they spoke of the body and blood of Christ they were said to be eaters of human flesh.

Christians must meet such malicious reports. How? By silencing their accusers by their good works.

II. Submissive As Citizens (2:13-18).

One of the hallmarks of Christian character is willing and gracious recognition of proper authority, whether it be in the state, in the place of employment, in the school, or in the home. He does this for the Lord's sake (v. 13), and even when that authority is in the hands of an unreasonable man.

This does not mean that the Christian is to encourage or countenance tyranny and oppression, but that he is loyal to the state and to his employer, even though the present representative be a hard, unjust man. In all well ordered society there will be proper and effective means to correct injustice. But in and through it all the Christian shows his faith by his behavior.

Observe that government, in the plan of God, is for the purpose of keeping order, encouraging the good, and punishing the evil (vv. 13, 14). The powerful influence of the Christian Church should keep it in that right channel, or bring it back if it has strayed. Always loyal and obedient, the believer should use his ballot and his personal influence to establish and support good government.

III. Suffering As Christians (2:19-25).

Christ is our "example" (v. 21). Since some have interpreted this word and the statement "that ye should follow in his steps" as indicating that we are saved by our imitation of Christ, it is well to point out that this would be quite impossible. We would have to begin where He began—He was without sin (v. 22). But we have all "sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23). We need a Saviour—not an example as far as redemption is concerned.

In the ever present problem of suffering, we as redeemed ones do have Christ as our example. He who was sinless and without fault bore the shame and suffering of Calvary without complaint. When He was reviled He did not retaliate, when He was hurt He did not threaten revenge (vv. 22, 23), but was willing to leave the ultimate judgment in the hands of God, who will have the final word.

We ought to do the same when we suffer for Christ's sake. If we suffer because of our own sin or folly, we can claim no credit for bearing it patiently (v. 20). But when we have done well and then are persecuted, we have opportunity to show whether our profession of being followers of Christ really means anything. At this point some Christians lose their testimony and influence by a bitter, vengeful spirit.

These are trying days for the souls of men. In many parts of the world Christians are forced to drink the bitter cup of persecution. To the glory of God we record the fact that they are doing it heroically and in a true Christian spirit.

SUBMARINES:

Allies' Defense Grows

The Allies were making steady progress against Hitler's hitherto most potent weapon—the submarine. Decimates in monthly shipping losses by the United Nations and the preponderance of ocean-transported Allied munitions and supplies in North Africa at the victory finale were indicative of this.

Evidence of how the Allies were successfully applying air and sea power plus grit and stout hearts against the Nazi subsea peril abounded in epic report issued by the British admiralty describing how navy escort ships and Royal Canadian Air force planes had sunk or probably sunk 10 German submarines in an eight-day battle in the Atlantic.

Characterizing the action as the biggest single Allied victory against U-boats, the admiralty report said that planes, destroyers, frigates, corvettes, cutters and sloops joined in the battle continuing day and night for eight days. As many as 25 enemy submarines were in action at one time. The battle finally turned in favor of the convoy. "Some damage was suffered," the admiralty said, "but the majority of the merchantmen reached port in safety."

MERGER:

Wire Giants Unite

Improved telegraph service for those engaged directly in the war and for the general public in the post-war period was forecast as a result of the merger of Postal Telegraph Inc., and Western Union Telegraph company.

Together the two companies do a business of about $145,000,000 a year and their combined assets will approach $500,000,000.

Culminating negotiations and discussions covering more than 20 years, the merger was made possible by recent congressional action and by approval of the Federal Communications commission. Under the terms of the agreement, Western Union will acquire all assets and all business of Postal Telegraph and assume its liabilities and obligations, including the amount owed by Postal to the Reconstruction Finance corporation at the time of the closing of the agreement.

CURB:

War Plant Building

Ordering a halt on virtually all war plant construction which cannot be completed by October 1, the War Production board announced that the nation now has enough industrial plants to produce the materials required to beat the Axis.

Meanwhile the board had directed a widespread conversion of machine plant tools and other existing facilities to the production of more urgently needed goods. Calling its action a "significant milestone in the war program," the WPB said that men and materials released by its new directives would be channeled elsewhere into the war program.

WPB officials estimated that construction of between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 in new war plants would be halted, even if it were necessary to dismantle partially completed ones. Many machine tools orders will be cancelled, and tool plants will be converted to the production of "things that shoot."

The announcement emphasized that there "has been no easing-off in the demand for critical materials; there is on the horizon no indication whatever of a lessening in the demand for labor."

LIFELINE:

For Small Business

Hope for financial aid for small store owners, operators of gasoline and service stations and other small businesses adversely affected by the war was held forth by the Reconstruction Finance corporation in announcing a loan program.

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, said the program would be in the hands of the RFC Mortgage company. The company, he added, is ready to consider loans against real estate, including stores, privately owned gasoline and service stations and business properties generally that have lost their earning power by reason of wartime restrictions and regulations.

Mr. Jones announced that three types of loans will be considered: participation loans; refunding loans; and care and preservation loans.

MISCELLANY:

COFFEE: Beginning June 1, Americans will get enough coffee to make one and one-fourth cups a day compared with present rations, the OPA announced.

PAPER: The Office of War Information's output of news releases reached a record high of 53 in a single day. Included was one publicity release urging conservation of paper.

SUMMER WORK: School teachers who take summer jobs will not be frozen into them, the War Manpower commission announced, in answer to inquiries from teachers who wanted to do war work during summer vacations.

PROMOTIONS: The appointments of Simon Bolivar Buckner Jr. and John Lesene DeWitt to the temporary grades of lieutenant generals in the army were confirmed by the U. S. senate.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Air Raids Soften Europe for Invasion; Decisive Allied Moves Against Japan Forecast in Washington Strategy Meet; WLB Regains Authority on Wage Boosts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

With activity against the Japs on all eastern fronts forecast by recent Washington conferences, Allied air attacks against the enemy loom large in the tactical picture. Above are shown four American-trained Chinese pilots looking over the instrument panel of a P-40, in company with Maj. Grant Mahoney of the U. S. air force in China.

OFFENSIVES:

Europe and Asia Both

Not only Allied smashes against Hitlerite Europe, but decisive campaigns against Jap-held domains in Asia and the South Pacific in weeks to come were on the United Nations' war timetable scheduled by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in their Washington conferences.

That activity against Japan would be stepped up on a major scale was indicated by two developments. One was the presence at the Washington conferences of Commander-in-Chief Sir Archibald Wavell of India, Admiral Sir James Somerville, the Eastern fleet commander, and Sir Richard Peirse, the India air commander. The other was the disclosure that Admiral William F. Halsey and Gen. Douglas MacArthur had met to co-ordinate future operations in their areas.

Indicative of the trend toward decisive American action was a Tokyo radio report that strong U. S. forces had invaded the Jap-held island of Attu in the Aleutians.

Observers believed that future moves on Japan might take on a nutcracker character. One prong would close in on Nippon from the east, via Halsey's and MacArthur's combined forces in the Pacific. The other would squeeze Japan's flank from the Indian ocean and the India-Burma front, using the combined commands of Wavell, Somerville and Peirse.

TRADE PACTS:

Green Light by House

Surviving debate and the threat of crippling limitations, President Roosevelt's reciprocal trade program was extended by the house of representatives for a term of two years.

As debate had divided on party lines and the Republicans had supported a series of amendments which the Democrats charged would have been "a kiss of death" to the entire program, Speaker Sam Rayburn had rallied support sufficient to insure favorable action. While gaining main support from Republicans, the amendments were offered by Democratic Congressman West of Texas, only New Deal member of the house ways and means committee to oppose extension of the act.

Reciprocal trade pacts have been negotiated with 27 nations in the last nine years.

CANNING:

Kitchens Defined

A definition of "home canning" was released by the Office of Price Administration to allay housewives' fears about giving up rationing points for foods processed in co-operative centers now being organized in many parts of the country. The OPA defined "home canning" as those processed "in a kitchen primarily used for the preparation of meals, or in a kitchen used to demonstrate preparation of such meals"—such as in a school or home economics center.

If a farmer has a separate building where he customarily does his canning, he must get permission from his ration board to use it.

POSTWAR:

'A Mighty Flow'

Envisioning a "mighty flow of goods and materials" to war ravaged areas in the coming peace era, Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, said that the United States should welcome and encourage the development of other nations when the war is over.

"Today private business, as well as government is determinedly planning for a postwar period that will be so economically sound that peace can be permanent," he said.

RUSSIA:

Donets Flares Anew

Even as the Red army had continued its methodical, grinding drive against the line of German fortifications outside Novorossisk, last Nazi-held bastion in the Caucasus, other Russian forces to the north in the Donets river valley had opened fierce attacks near Lisichansk, about 125 miles southeast of Kharkov.

For weeks, Soviet dispatches had reported trainload after trainload of German troops rolling eastward to the Russian front. But Hitler had kept his moves for what would be his last chance offensive well masked.

In the action near Lisichansk, gateway to the eastern Donets basin, the Russians said the enemy had tried a wedge-shaped drive into Russian-held territory, but this thrust was pushed back. In pursuing the retreating Nazis the Red troops were able to establish themselves on a hill of "great tactical importance."

AIR RAIDS:

Bombs Write History

Cologne and Dortmund had suffered destructive Allied air raids that dwarfed the damage visited on London by the Luftwaffe in the battle of Britain, but it remained for Duisburg, center of German war and transportation hub of the Nazi's defense of western Europe, to be smashed by the heaviest aerial assault in all history.

The RAF was the Allied instrument of destruction. It was estimated that as many as 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped. The heaviest previous raid ever made anywhere was that on Cologne, on May 31, 1942, when 1,000 bombers were employed and more than 1,500 tons of explosives were rained on the Nazi city. An attack on Dortmund had reached the intensity of the Cologne raid, but the Duisburg raid was the heaviest of all time.

That the Duisburg raid was but a prelude to what Nazi-held Europe might expect was indicated by devastating forays which followed immediately. American Flying Fortresses continued the marathon by making their own heaviest attack since the war began on St. Omer and Mesulles in northern France.

Meanwhile in the East the Russian air force took the initiative away from the Nazis, while Red planes smashed at German communications at Warsaw, capital of Poland, and its suburb of Praga. In the Mediterranean area, U. S. bombers strafed airfields and shipping facilities in Sicily and on the Italian invasion coast.

WAGE BOOSTS:

WLB May Act

The War Labor board got back some of its discretionary authority to make wage adjustments. James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, announced the new policy in a directive specifying that the board may now raise wages "to aid in the prosecution of the war or correct gross inequities."

Mr. Byrnes, however, qualified his action with the limitation that such wage adjustments must not cause price rises or stand in the way of price reductions.

The new policy directive was issued in response to the WLB's appeal for clarification of its position as a result of President Roosevelt's recent "hold the line" anti-inflation order. The board had complained that it was virtually stripped of all discretionary powers in wage cases, since the President's order had limited its actions.

While restoring authority to eliminate "gross inequities" Mr. Byrnes' directive did not restore to the board the power to correct "inequities" which it held prior to the President's "hold the line" order.

Applications for War Ration Book No. 2, which will provide stamps to replace those now running out in existing books, are now being distributed by letter carriers. Each application is good for a single individual or an entire family. Consumers will fill out stamp and mail application cards, which are pre-addressed to OPA mail centers, between June and June 10.

Around June 20 and up to July 21, OPA centers will mail books to applicants.

DESTROY EXPIRED STAMPS

To strike an effective blow against the black market housewives are urged to destroy all expired red or blue ration stamps. These stamps should not be given to anyone, but definitely torn up or burned. OPA points out that every expired stamp is potentially a means of evading regulations and obtaining food for sale at retail with out exacting points. In other words, it contributes to higher prices and to needless scarcity of food.

SUGAR FOR CANNING

Sugar for home canning can be obtained by using stamps 25 and 10 in War Ration Book One instead of sugar allowance coupons as previously announced by OPA. Each stamp is worth five pounds. Consumers who require more than ten pounds per person for canning will apply to their local War Price and Ration Boards for additional allowance.

USED BEDSPRING CEILINGS

Dollar and cents ceilings over used metal coil and flat bedsprings at wholesale and retail become effective May 26. Limited production and crowded war centers ran prices up. OPA set ceilings for them at retail prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.50 and when reconditioned, at prices ranging from $7 to $12.

FARMERS FIRST FOR GAS

Any person in the east coast shortage area using gasoline for non-highway farm purposes will be given preference by a recent order of the Petroleum Administrator. The requirements of any person who presents valid E. R. or bulk coupons for motor fuel for non-highway farm uses will receive first consideration by all suppliers. A 10-day inventory restriction on fuel oil has also been removed, to permit stocks to be built up in preparation for next winter.

USED INNER TUBES RATION-

Used inner tubes for passenger car or truck tires can now be purchased without a ration certificate. It is estimated that there are about 705,000 used passenger car tubes and 225,000 used truck tubes now idle in dealers' stocks. All rationing regulations have been removed on used tubes to help conserve the supply of new ones.

STOVES TO BE RATIONED

Rationing of all types of stoves (including laundry stoves, but excluding water heaters) will begin late in June. They include coal or wood, oil, and gas heating stoves, coal or wood, oil, and gas cooking stoves. After the plan becomes effective, you must have a purchase certificate from your ration board to buy a stove. Certificates will be issued on the basis of need.

MEAT PROCESSED WITHOUT POINTS

Farmers and consumers are permitted to have meats and fats smoked, cured, rendered, frozen, packaged or otherwise processed, by a recent OPA amendment to rationing regulations. No points need to be transferred, but the processor must keep adequate records.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who willfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy. . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?' — Secretary Morgenthau."
